I. Read the passage and answer the questions given below.

A desert is not always a flat, unchanging waste land of dry sand. It may have mountains and hill. It may have on oasis, big or small. An oasis is like a green island in the middle of a desert where a spring or a well gives plants and trees a better chance to grow. A desert may be hot like the Thar or cold like Ladakh. But, generally speaking, if a place has little or no water and vegetation, people usually call it a desert. Some deserts are almost totally without water. In such places, strong winds blow raising heaps of sands and depositing them as mounds. There are called sand dunes that shift and move endlessly across the desert. Few plants can survive on such dry, shifting sands.
